

DEMONSTRATION

On the Edge is the trading card game of surreal conspiracies. Two or more players adopt the roles of arch-conspirators, each vying to dominate the strange Mediterranean island of Al Amaria. Cards in each player's deck represent the resources and inhabitants of the island that may be at their disposal — from contacts in the art scene to strange alien technologies.

On the Edge cards may be common, uncommon, or rare. They feature original artwork and are numbered for collecting. Beginners to the game, as well as fans clamoring for a cross-section of the core game and all three expansions, can also try the Burger Box mixed display.
